

COMBOS® 3rd Annual “America’s Manliest Cities” Study
Board of Manliness Quote Sheet

For the first time, COMBOS® incorporated personal rankings of a Board of Manliness into the annual “America’s Manliest Cities” study. Here’s what a few of the Board of Manliness members had to say about some of the cities in the study.

BOARD OF MANLINESS
Rollie Fingers 	On Dallas, TX: “When I think of Dallas I think of oil rig workers and ranchers. It’s a hard working city.” On Charlotte, NC: “The Home of NASCAR, an average guy in Charlotte knows more about car engines than the entire city of Detroit. A good suggestion: be careful driving around town. If you turn right, there’s a good chance you’ll be in an accident.”
Sergeant Slaughter 	On Minneapolis, “Minnesnowta”: “Do you know how hard it is to chop a hole big enough for your boat to go ice fishing?” On Memphis, TN: “Most well-known for Elvis. The King was responsible for putting the ‘Man’ in Manly. Rumor has it he wore “Blue Suede” combat boots.”
Lou Ferrigno 	On New York, NY: “I’m from New York and I’m the manliest guy I know.”
Jack Passion 	On Portland, OR: “It’s a known fact that Portland’s number one for hippies. But it’s also number one for LOGGERS, BEARDS and BEER!” On Seattle, WA: “Washington state is a manly, almost crunchy state, with Seattle as its soft capital center. Sounds kinda like Compos. Guess which one is more delicious?”
Judy Gold 	On Buffalo, NY: “So manly, it’s almost Canada!” On Los Angeles, CA: “It’s very manly if you like tanning beds, Botox and low cal mojitos.” On Toledo, Ohio: “It better be manly, because there is nothing else going on there!”
Mike Sullivan 	On Milwaukee, WI: “The word Milwaukee is synonymous for beer. That makes it a manly city.”
